COOK WAS ON THE STAND

TESTIFIED IN HIS SUIT AGAINST EX-GOVERNOR MORRIS.

Special Interesting Session of the Superior Court Yesterday—Several Witnesses Examined in the Celebrated Case—Other Important Court News.

In the superior court, civil side, where the trial of the suit of J. Hazelton Cook against Luzon B. Morris, executor of the estate of the late Daniel Hand, is in progress, late yesterday afternoon Cook took the stand and related the details of the agreement he alleges to have made with Daniel Hand. He testified that Hand had sent for him and told him that Walker's health was failing and that he was afraid that he would not be able to pass through the law school.

He also claimed that Hand told him that he had contemplated making Walker his private lawyer and consequently he was anxious to have him graduate.
After relating this conversation Cook said: "Mr. Hand told me to go to Dean Wayland of the law school and tell him that he (Hand) was disposed to give $25,000 to the law school in appreciation of a kindness shown by Walker at the school. Then Mr. Hand told me that he would give me $25,000 if I would tutor Walker so as to ensure his graduation."

Cook further testified in reference to his teaching Walker and how the two graduated in the same class. He also testified that in 1891 he visited Hand, who was then sick abed, and asked him if he could rely on his promise to remember him in his will, to which Hand replied, "Yes, that will be all right." Cook was rigidly cross-examined by Attorney Alling and the examination had not been concluded when court adjourned for the day. The trial will be resumed at 10 o'clock Monday morning.

Earlier in the day Fanny Douglass Cook, a sister of the plaintiff, testified that her brother and Walker had been close friends and that she had heard that her brother was to receive $25,000 from Mr. Hand if he succeeded in getting Walker through the law school. She also testified that at a lawn party Mr.
Hand caught her brother up in his arms, kissed him and said to him: "I have made you independently rich for life, as I have left $25,000 for you in my will" and Walker acknowledged having drawn the codicil.

The witness was subjected to a rigid cross-examination, but her testimony remained unshaken. Her testimony was corroborated by Miss Ethelwyn M.
Salter of New York, who was present at the lawn party and heard the conversation above referred to.

D. C. Cook of New York, a brother of the plaintiff, and Professor W. G. Sumner of Yale testified concerning Cook's education, the latter saying that Cook was a remarkably energetic student while at college.

City Court—Criminal Side—Judge Callahan.
John King, violation of Sunday liquor law, $50 fine. $17.44 costs; Michael Dolan, violation of Sunday liquor law, $50 fine, $16.98 costs; Patrick W. Dwyer, breach of the peace, $2 fine, $7.44 costs; Morris Leenberg, Moritz Bodlander, James Hyland, Thomas Daly, Benjamin Merles and Max Bogen, violation of city ordinance, $2 fine, $2.33 costs each; John Bruce, vagrancy, judgment suspended; John Welch, breach of the peace, discharged; Cornelius F. Brennan, breach of the peace, no lie; drunk, $5 fine, $7.05 costs; James O'Brien, theft, continued until March 22; Robert O'Brien, theft, continued until March 22.

Court Notes.
In the common pleas court, criminal side, yesterday afternoon John Freyer, a saloon keeper at 270 Davenport avenue, was convicted of violating the liquor law and was fined $50 and costs, which he paid.

United States Court—Judge Townsend.
W. W. Comstock of New Canaan pleaded guilty in the United States court yesterday to selling oleomargarine and was fined $100 with costs of $100. He lives in a secluded place called the "Four Corners," near New Canaan, and peddled farm produce in Norwalk and Stamford.

Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue E. N. Sloan suspected that he was selling oleomargarine and on making an investigation found sufficient evidence against Comstock. The young man was about to settle the case, but was advised to fight it, and fight it he said he would. He appeared in court yesterday with the above result.

To-day the cases of the three Bridgeport counterfeiters will be taken up.

CITY SUED FOR $5,000 DAMAGES.
Through her counsel, ex-Judge W. B.
Stoddard, Sarah M. Crogan has brought suit against the city to recover $5,000 damages for injuries received by falling on an icy sidewalk in front of 183 Wooster street on January 2, 1895. She alleges that her left hip and side were severely injured by the fall and several bones broken. The suit is returnable to the superior court.

VERDICT AGAINST THE RAILROAD Boston, March 21.—In the superior court to-day a verdict for $4,000 was returned in favor of Mrs. Jennie A. Jordan against the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad for injuries received in August, 1893, in the Holbrook station. By reason of lack of light and barriers she fell into a hole in the floor and was injured.

A WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS TO DISCHARGE DR. WHITTEN.
The Massachusetts counsel for Dr.
George E. Whitten of Andoverdale, under the indictment for murder in the second degree, have notified Judge W.
K. Townsend of the United States court of this district that next week they intend to apply for Dr. Whitten's discharge on a writ of habeas corpus, on the ground that he was not properly incited here. This step, it is understood, was suggested by Governor Corbin when he declined to grant Governor Greenhalge's request to interfere in the case.

Wife—I am afraid you are not enjoying my dinner. What are you thinking of? Husband—I was thinking that there must be misprints in your cook-book—

HANDSOMELY REMEMBERED.

Ewen McIntyre Athletic Club Appreciate Services of Charles Leonard.

At a meeting of the Ewen McIntyre & Co. Athletic association held March 20 it was with much sorrow that they learned of the sickness of one of their recent members and one who contributed much to the success of last summer's team.

Appreciating his faithful service and hard and zealous work for the success of the association and with earnest hopes for his speedy recovery, the following resolution was unanimously passed:

Resolved, That in view of the faithful service and hard and constant work of Charles Leonard, one of last year's players, and to show to him the association is in return grateful for the sacrifice he made for its success.

Be it resolved, That the balance of cash on hand, $24.20, be presented to Mr. Leonard with the best wishes of every member of the association and the earnest desire for his recovery.

Free Lectures in Vern Hall.

At 4:30 and 8 o'clock to-night Professor Colby will give his opening free lectures in Vern hall, explaining and illustrating his method for teaching German in five weeks. An hour of solid enjoyment is promised all who attend and no one should be so skeptical regarding Professor Colby's claims as to not be willing to investigate.
Many of the best known men in this country have attended his classes and all unite in declaring his system to be all and even more than is claimed for it.

DR. HOLUB TO-NIGHT.

His Lecture in the Mechanics' Course—The Noted African Explorer.

The last lecture but one in the Mechanics' course is to be given this evening by Dr. Emil Holub of Prague on his explorations and adventures in Africa. The lecture will be illustrated by photographs, though not by lantern slides, and it is expected to be of more than usual interest.

Dr. Holub has spent many years in the southern part of the African continent, and has made remarkable collections of specimens, many of which are at present stored in the museum at Prague. In his second expedition alone he collected over 900 skulls of large mammals, 214 skins of large mammals, 2,294 kinds of birds and bird skins, 900 eggs, 220 fish, 703 mollusks, 543 reptiles, and about 35,000 other specimens, to say nothing of the numerous botanical and paleontological specimens.

Those who do not hold tickets for the course are admitted to the single lectures on payment of twenty-five cents.

A CHASTLY DISEASE.

Different Doctors Give It Different Names.

The Result Always the Same.—Speedy Death.—Until Recently, Considered Hopeless.—Now, New Methods. Salvation.

Nothing is more alarming than diseases of an ulcerous nature. A continual gnawing away of life-generating tissue, until a vital spot is reached, an artery is severed, or from slow weakness death ensues.
Especially in Gastritis—ulcers of the stomach—is terrible suffering experienced. The symptoms, though not at first alarming (seemingly a slight attack of indigestion), gradually become worse, so that no nourishment can be retained on the stomach, and unless the troublesome ulcer produces death by perforation, the patient

Dies of Starvation.
In Consumption, where the ulcers attack the lungs, the termination is very similar, as it is, in fact, in any of the wasting diseases to which are given various names, according to the organs affected.

By the methods of physicians of to-day thousands of lives are being saved in cases that a few years ago were considered hopeless. The first step now taken to effect a cure is to make new blood and tissue, give the patient strength, and keep him "on the gain" by administering Bovinine.

Bovinine is not a medicine, but a greatly concentrated extract of the most vital elements of lean raw beef. The life-maintaining qualities of this wonderful preparation are simply marvellous. Dr. A. M.
Cook, of New Castle, Pa., states that he maintained life in his wife, while suffering from gastric ulcers, for three weeks without giving her anything through the mouth, injecting Bovinine instead.

With such results as this, it is not to be wondered at that Bovinine is indorsed by physicians everywhere, and has become recognized as the greatest factor in saving life, hastening recovery from sickness, and warding off disease, ever given to man.
